GOOGLE ANALYTICS COOKIES

We use the Google Analytics web analytics tool that helps us analyse how visitors engage with our Web site. Google Analytics uses a cookie that collects anonymous traffic data, and much like examining footprints in sand, it reports Web site trends without identifying individual visitors.

The cookie is used to store information, such as what time your current visit occurred, whether you have been to the site before, and what site referred you to the Web page. Google Analytics provides a variety of reports about how you interact with our Web site, such as number of pages you view and files that you download. Google Analytics requires that all Web sites that use it must update their privacy policy to include a notice that fully discloses the use of Google Analytics.

By using Google Analytics we were required to agree to Google's Terms of Service (<http://www.google.com/analytics/tos.html>)
